Jury Refuses to Believe That J. Gilbert Raynor, of East Moriches, Snared Ducks.

HIS COUNSEL'S AVAILING PLEA

"He Is a Church Leader and His Accuser a Parlor Car Sportsman" Was What Won the Jury.

EAST MORICHES, N. Y., Thursday.—J. Gilbert Raynor, a bayman, was defendant in a suit which was tried here to-day, before Judge Griffing, for the recovery of a penalty of $300 for illegally taking wild fowl in nets. The case was brought by John Overton, a game protector. It dates back to November 18 and 19.

Dr. Richardson and a guide, Edward Benjam, testified that they were out shooting on November 18. They watched with a pair of binoculars from a distance of thirty feet, and ducks from some nests. The next day a special game protector, with a score of a dozen guides, went there, and brought away sixteen nets, each about two hundred yards long. In these nets were found forty wild fowl.

SAVED THREE MEN ADRIFF.

Escaped from Sinking Barge and Rode Out Blizzards in a Small Boat.

VINEYARD HAVEN, MASS., Thursday.—Particulars of the loss of the barge Virginia H. Hudson and Martha E. McCabe in Monday night's blizzard off Barnegat and of the rescue of the three men on the McCabe were brought to this port to-day by the schooner Helen J. Jett.

The vessels were overtaken by a blizzard on Monday afternoon, in the rough sea which sprung up on the McCabe, the last of the tow, broke adrift, and soon afterward the Hudson, the second of the string, also parted her tow line. The Hudson crew was rescued, but in the great gathering darkness the tug was unable to reach the McCabe. Early Tuesday morning the crew was forced to take to the small boat ten minutes after the barge disappeared beneath the water.

Letting go a small anchor the men rode out the blizzard in their small boat, being constantly kept from drifting and were rescued by the tug.

CHURCHMEN SPLIT ON LABOR.

Philadelphia Conference in an Uproar Over Lockout of Printers by the Methodist Book Concern.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Thursday.—At today's session of the Philadelphia Methodist Conference the Rev. Dr. Homer J. Clinton, of the Book Concern, was requested to explain the anonymous circular which had been distributed declaring that the Book Concern had locked out its printers and had published questionable literature. Dr. Eaton declared that Typographical Union No. 6 was fighting the Concern because the publishers desired to conduct their business according to their own lights. The Rev. Dr. A. G. Kynett offered a resolution endorsing the Book Concern's action. This resolution met with the disapproval of many pastors whose charges are among the laboring classes. It threw the Conference into an uproar, and the resolution was referred to the Book Committee.

ROBBERS COMRADES IN PRISON.

Two Negroes Sent to Sing Sing for Ten Years for Burglary.

You are desperadoes, and men whom the community well know," said Judge Sullivan in General Sessions Court yesterday to Robert Colver and Joseph Edwards, negroes, whom he sentenced to imprisonment for ten years in State Prison. Colver, 29 years old, was arrested at the home of Mrs. Emily H. De Rham, No. 23 Fifth avenue, on February 3, and taken up on a quantity of stolen goods. When they were discovered and captured, then Mrs. Adele Davis, of No. 6 Irving place, identified them as the men who had entered her home and stolen her silverware. Four years ago both were sent to the Elmira Reformatory for theft, and after they had served a term of escape they were transferred to Sing Sing.

CALLS ON JEROME TO PRODUCE BAGG

Former Employee of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company Needed in Inquiry.

GETS TULLY'S ARMY RECORD

Court Clerk Under Charges in Jury Fixing Case Had Enlisted Under Name of Atherton.

Judge Seabury, of the City Court, is continuing his investigation into the question of "jury fixing" on the part of lawyers in the interest of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company and on Monday Street to have before him Stanley Bagge, formerly connected with the railroad company, who is believed to know of the matter at issue.

Bagge is regarded as one of the most important witnesses who should be produced, and though District Attorney Jerome has said he could find the man any time, he has so far neglected to aid in producing him. Another man who is wanted is John C. Foley, a former court clerk, who, with several others, was dismissed last year and has since been seeking reinstatement. It has been established that W. H. Tully, who served many times in his branch of the court.

Under the signature of Secretary of War Taft, Assistant Corporation Counsel Crowell received from Washington yesterday a certificate of discharge from the army of E. G. Tully, charges against whom are being investigated. It showed that Tully enlisted under the name of Edward Atherton, and that he received a furlough of ten days, but was unable to return on account of illness.

On the books of the War Department he was registered as a deserter, but by special act of Congress was discharged. He admitted he was consoling at the time General Grant was forcing General Lee to the point of surrender. Tully could not remember the name of the man who was drafted and for whom substituted, but he declared he was not paid anything for acting as substitute.

Evidence was shown that Max D. Steuer's firm had received $300 for printing and other expenses incidental to the prosecution of the case of the men who were dismissed last year to carry on their fight for reinstatement, but Mr. Steuer adhered to the statement that he had never charged the men a dollar for acting in their behalf as counsel. The hearing will be continued Tuesday afternoon.

HIS APOLOGY KEEPS MADDEN FROM JAIL

Horseman Appears Before Judge Burr and Expresses Sorrow for Disobeying Order.

HINTS AT RECONCILIATION

Says He Believes He and His Wife May Make Up Their Differences—$250 Fine Paid by Him.

John E. Madden, a horseman of Lexington, Ky., who in August was adjudged in contempt of court for refusing to appear in Syracuse before a commissioner appointed by the New York Supreme Court and give testimony in connection with a suit for separation brought by Mrs. Madden in the Ohio courts, yesterday purged himself by appearing before Judge Burr in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, and humbly apologizing for his conduct.

Judge Burr, when the contempt proceedings were first brought, imposed a fine of $250 upon Mr. Madden, and sentenced him to serve thirty days in Raymond Street Jail, Brooklyn, but when counsel for the horseman some weeks ago made a motion to modify the sentence the court stipulated that if Mr. Madden would come before him in person and apologize he would remit the jail sentence.

Counsel for Mrs. Madden contended at the former hearing that Mr. Madden simply wished to purge himself of contempt so that he might return to New York for the spring racing, but yesterday, in addressing Judge Burr, Mr. Madden declared his apology was heartfelt, and intimated the possibility of a reconciliation with his wife.

"In extenuation," said Mr. Madden, "but in no case in defense of my conduct, I feel I may with propriety say that I shrank from giving my deposition because I feared in doing so I might widen the breach between my wife and myself and render more difficult the reconciliation I believe to be possible and which I yet hope may come about."

Mr. Madden thanked the court for its consideration in offering to remit the jail sentence. Judge Burr said he did this out of consideration for Mrs. Madden and the children, who would share in the distress. Judge Burr added that he felt no malice toward Mr. Madden and was certain the payment of the fine would sufficiently uphold the dignity of the Supreme Court. Mr. Madden then paid over to the clerk the $250, and the incident was closed.

MADDENS END COURT WAR

Now Lawyers for the Wife Are in Dispute Over Fees.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Thursday.—The domestic troubles of John E. Madden and his wife were removed from the courts to-day by the dismissal of the divorce suit that Madden had filed in Lexington before Judge Swing, last fall.

Now, that the litigation between the principals has ended, Mrs. Madden's attorneys have started a battle of their own over $7,000 fees and expenses, allowed to her attorneys, W. L. Dickson and John C. Brady.

SWEEPING CHANGE IN MEDICAL LAW

Osteopaths, Christian Scientists and Other Healers May Get Legal Right to Practise.

PRESENT EXAMINERS OUSTED

Assembly Committee Suggests Important Changes with Approval of Department of Education.

[SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE HERALD.] ALBANY, N. Y., Thursday.—Sweeping changes in the laws regulating admission to the practice of medicine in this State are made by a bill introduced to-day by the Committee on Public Health of the Assembly, with the approval of the State Department of Education. Under the terms of the bill, the present boards of medical advisers are legislated out of office and osteopaths, Christian Scientists and the devotees of all other theories of healing may be admitted to practice if they show on examination that they have the amount of knowledge required by the State. In explaining the bill to-day, Mr. Whitney, of Saratoga, chairman of the Public Health Committee, said: "It seems to the committee that the policy of establishing an indefinite number of boards of dealing with the same general subject is unwise, and that it is logical and sound for the State to supervise, wholly as a matter of protection to the public health, the licensing of those who are to practice the healing art."

"After they are thus qualified and licensed the State need not concern itself as to the school or form of practice adopted. The bill defines the practice of medicine in accordance with the latest judicial determination of the courts of record of this State. It legislates out of office the present State boards of examiners, which are nominated by the various medical societies of the State, and substitutes for them a single State board appointed by the Governor with his council."

"By this means the State passes upon the general qualifications of the licensee without attempting in any way to assume what school of medicine he belongs to, or to recognize the various systems of medicine by prescribing tests therefor. The bill amends the legal procedure for prosecutions under the Medical act and the registration, annulment and revocation of licenses. These amendments are purely in the interest of better enforcement of the law and are based upon the difficulties encountered in practical experience under the present law."

"This bill was drafted at the request of the Committee on Public Health by one of the best medical lawyers in the State of New York, and has been submitted to the Department of Education for approval."
